Faridabad-based Khemka Containers (KCL) will set up a Rs 100 crore unit in Sri City, Andhra Pradesh.

The directors of the company, Rajeev Khemka, Sanjay Khemka and Ashish Khemka made the announcement after breaking ground on the new project on 31 January 2016.

The plant, which is expected to be operational by October 2016, will be equipped to produce corrugated boxes, mono cartons and printed display items.

According to the company, the plant will occupy a 10-acre plot and provide employment opportunities for about 200 people.

KCL is one of the leading and largest companies in the paper printing and packaging industry in India. It was listed as one of the 'Top 10 corrugators in India' by PrintWeek India in its special publication The 1000 in 2012

They have four production units in India which offer customers a full range of packaging options such as high-end graphic labels, lithographic multi-colour boxes, bulk containers, wood replacement alternatives, etc.
